Definition of a California Good Driver:

- a. Each operator has been licensed to drive a motor vehicle for the previous 3 years and each operator has had no more than 1 minor moving violation conviction with no chargeable accidents; or has had no more than 1 one-point chargeable accident involving property damage and no convictions.
- b. In the past three years, no accidents involved bodily injury or death where the operator is at least 51% at fault.
- c. During the past ten years, the operator has not been convicted of a violation involving alcohol or drugs.

Per CA R § 2632.13, a driver may be considered to be principally at fault in an accident if the driver's actions or omissions were at least 51 percent of the legal cause of the accident (subject to the exceptions listed below) and, in accidents not resulting in bodily injury or death, if the damage to the property of any one person caused by the accident exceeded $1,000.00.

The exception to this is: 1) if the driver was parked at the time of the accident; 2) the vehicle was struck in the rear by another vehicle, and the driver was not convicted of a moving traffic violation in connection with the accident; 3) the driver was not convicted of a moving traffic violation and the operator of another vehicle involved in the accident was convicted of a moving accident; 4) the driver's vehicle was damaged as a result of contact with a vehicle operated by a 'hit and run' operator of another vehicle and the accident was reported to legal authorities within a reasonable time after the accident; 5) the accident resulted from contact with animals, birds, or falling objects; 6) the driver was responding to a call of duty as a paid volunteer member of a police or fire department, first aid squad, or of any law enforcement agency, while performing any other governmental function in a public emergency; or 7) the accident was a solo vehicle accident that was principally caused by a hazardous condition of which a driver, in exercise of reasonable care, would not have noticed (for example, 'black ice') or in the exercise of reasonable care could not have been avoided (for example avoiding a child running into the street).
